Italian Delegate Tells League Italy Reserves Liberty Of Action In Africa

DEMANDS ETHIOPIA BE DENIED EQUALITY

Britain And France Make Effort To Bring Peace By League Formulas

(International News Service)
GENEVA, Sept. 4.—Citing numerous examples of alleged "Ethiopian aggression" against Italy, Baron Pompeo Aloisi urged before the League of Nations council today that Ethiopia be denied equality with Italy at Geneva.

Taking the floor at the opening session of the 88th meeting of the league council after Capt. Anthony Eden and Premier Pierre Laval, respective leaders of the British and French delegations, had delivered ardent pleas for peace, Baron Aloisi declared Italy must "reserve its whole liberty of action" regarding Ethiopia.

Baron Aloisi, chief Italian delegate to the crucial meeting said Italy "refused to recognize" Ethiopia equality at Geneva, and implied Italy would not sit in on discussions of the quarrel until Ethiopia is relegated to a position beneath that of Italy in the league.

Professor Gaston Jèze, French jurist officially representing Ethiopia, replied bitterly against this "formidable precedent Italy wishes to create."

Soon after Capt. Eden said Britain will do "everything in its power" to bring about a peaceful settlement of the Italo-Ethiopian dispute and after Premier Laval had pledged France to abide by league formulas, Baron Aloisi arose to present a long review of Italo-Ethiopian negotiations. He climaxed this with the statement:

"The Italian government would be lacking in its most elementary duty if it did not finally withdraw its entire confidence with regard to Ethiopia, and if it did not reserve its whole liberty of action in order to adopt all measures which would become necessary for the security of its colonies and for the safeguard of its own interests."

Place No Blame In Border Clash

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)
GENEVA, Sept. 4.—After months of work and numerous interruptions, the League of Nations Italo-Ethiopian conciliation commission today formally cleared Italy of responsibility for the Walwal East Africa border clash of last December, but at the same time failed to blame Ethiopia.

The Walwal incident, in which many Italians and Ethiopians were killed, was the immediate cause of the present threat of war. The council formally received the report today.

Exonerate Girl In Uncle's Death

Jury Believes Death Of Carmen Domenick Accidental, After Hearing Story

SHOCK TO HEART HELD DEATH CAUSE

Mrs. Eva Moran, aged 20, niece of Carmen Domenick, who died in the New Castle hospital, August 25, a short time after he had been struck by an automobile driven by Mrs. Moran, was exonerated of blame for her uncle's death by a coroner's jury last evening. The inquest, held by Coroner Orville Potter, took place in Alderman H. G. Coates' office on North Cedar street.

Dr. Jas. M. Popp who took care of the deceased after he was brought to the New Castle hospital, put a new angle on the case, when he testified that the injuries received by Mr. Domenick were not sufficient to have caused death, but that Mr. Domenick died of heart trouble. X-Rays showing that he was suffering with a well advanced case of arterio sclerosis, or hardening of the arteries of the heart, and that death might have occurred at any time. The fright caused when he was struck induced a heart attack, the doctor stated, which brought on his death.

Couldn't Find Driver
Willis G. McMullen, chief of detectives of the city police force told of being summoned to investigate the accident, along with Detective John Moore, after Mr. Domenick had been struck. They went to the New Castle hospital at the request of Coroner Potter, and found that the car which had struck Mr. Domenick had been driven by his niece, Mrs. Eva Moran, of 113 North Liberty street, but were unable to find Mrs. Moran or her husband. The couple surrendered to police on Wednesday afternoon, he said. Mrs. Moran had told that she had no license to operate a car and became frightened and ran away until the excitement died down, he stated.

Nick Domenick, who is a nephew of Carmen Domenick, and who was with him when struck, stated that they were enroute to the home of Nick's sister, on Wabash avenue, about 12:45, when they were hit. As they were walking across the intersection of Lacoock and Liberty street, he said he heard a noise as of a car coming. He looked back and saw the machine coming right at them. He said he tried to pull his uncle out of the way, but that he tried to go in the opposite direction, and by the time they had stumbled up onto the sidewalk in front of the Mahoning Supply Company, the car came up over the curb and struck them. He was knocked down and

Standard Oil Interests Cancel Oil Concessions Granted By Ethiopia

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.—The United States today washed its hands completely clean of the African oil deal which had threatened to drag American interests directly into the midst of Europe's latest war threat. Moving swiftly upon the urgent request of Secretary of State Cordell Hull, Standard Oil interests, to whom Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia had leased half his kingdom in a desperate effort to save it from Italian conquest, agreed to cancel the concession.

PORT SAID, Sept. 4.—Guns of two British warships freshly anchored in the mouth of the Suez Canal frowned from beneath their canvas jackets on four Italian troop ships today, and officers on both sides exchanged grim smiles behind their binoculars.

For today, as Geneva decides for peace or war, these troops ships might be the last to pass, and these guns would be among the first to speak should the League of Nations choose to substitute their language for diplomacy.

Warships Moving
Flying from London to Port Said at this fateful moment in Europe's history, your correspondent, bound for the Abyssinian field of war, passed from one end of the continent to the other, and throughout its length and clear down into Africa and across into Asia signs of preparations for "great chaos" were unmistakable.

From the mouth of the English Channel to the mouth of the Suez Canal British warships are moving, and countering each move is an Italian naval move.

Concentration of the British Mediterranean fleet in strategic positions is nearly perfected, while Italian naval maneuvers have brought Premier Mussolini's proud new navy into striking place at the narrow waters by Sicily, where the British must pass to reach and block the Suez.

Graphic Story Of Florida Havoc

Coast Guard Messages Tell Of Destruction In Various Sections

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.—The brief messages which poured into coast guard headquarters all during the night gave a graphic description of the destruction the hurricane wrought upon various sections of Florida, one of America's winter playgrounds.

The latest messages showed:
1—That the train carrying about 400 persons in a section just above Upper Matecumbe Key when the fury of the hurricane struck that locality, was overturned "with only the engine left standing."

3—Veterans' camp number 5, located on Lower Matecumbe Key, was completely wrecked. "Only wreckage remains," the message said.

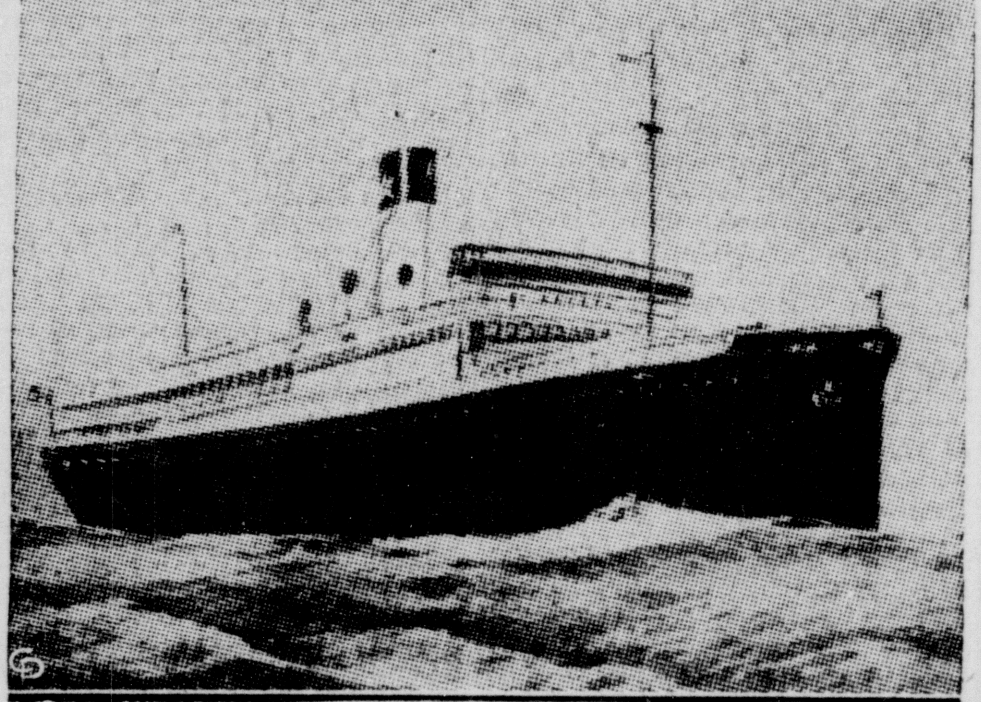

4—700 persons marooned on Matecumbe Key.

None of the messages, however, made any mention of casualties.

STEAMSHIP DIXIE

Carrying 260 passengers and her crew numbering 140, the steamship Dixie, New York bound from New Orleans, is still reported in a perilous position off the Florida Keys, aground on a reef following a hurricane. Coast guard vessels were trying to effect a rescue and it is believed that the passengers will be taken off this afternoon, by other vessels on the scene.

Miami Rushes Aid To Stricken Areas; Many Storm Reports

(International News Service)
MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 4.—Miami redoubled its efforts early today to rush relief to the hurricane-devastated area south of here.

Dozens of ambulances, containing doctors, nurses and medical equipment, food trucks and private cars were being rushed down the 70 miles of road to Homestead, center of the disaster, where many of the injured were being cared for.

Red Cross officials expressed the hope it would be possible to bring most of the injured here for attention. Meantime Miami was shut off completely from the area south of Homestead and Tavernier. This section ordinarily can be reached only by boat, but all available boats in the area have been either swept away or moved to safer ports.

In all probability airplanes will take off from Miami to make surveys of the stricken towns if there is an improvement in the weather this morning.

Report 100 Killed.
Washington, Sept. 4.—An official report from its Miami disaster chairman, Leonard Thompson, advised Red Cross headquarters here today that 100 persons were killed and 35 injured in Tavernier, Fla., by the hurricane.

"That is official for that one spot," officials at headquarters of the relief agency said.

"We have sent four men down from here by train who left early today. We will send others as quickly as possible."

Some concern was felt here for a time over the possibilities of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dufford and Carl Walters local residents who sailed several days ago for Bermuda. A post card today to friends indicates that they reached Bermuda before the hurricane struck the Florida coast.

Between 80 And 100 Ex-Servicemen Lost In Florida Storm

(International News Service)
HOMESTEAD, Fla., Sept. 4.—Physicians, Red Cross nurses and emergency relief groups succeeded early today, after hours of heroic effort, in reaching the hurricane-devastated FERA camps in the south Florida Keys.

An incomplete checkup by the Red Cross indicated that between 80 and 100 ex-servicemen, who had been engaged in bridge construction work, had lost their lives in the storm.

At least 100 suffered injuries. In the dim light of the early morning, with a biting gale, the tail end of the hurricane, blowing at 50 miles an hour, a gallant group of rescuers crossed Snake creek from Homestead to the stricken camps.

The crossing was made in a small skiff, powered with an outboard motor. It was the only craft available.

The rescuers found the camps utterly devastated, with the injured huddling pitifully against the few buildings that were left standing. Bodies of the dead were found in all parts of the camp area.

After administering first aid to the more seriously injured, the rescuers prepared to transport those needing help to Homestead.

Automobiles were lined up on the Homestead shore of Snake creek and their headlights turned onto the wind-tossed water.

The white-clad doctors and nurses on the other side of the creek looked almost weird in the glare of the headlights as they lifted the injured into the small rescue boat.

Fifty of the injured were brought to Homestead in the small boat within two hours.

Ten were taken to the Post Graduate hospital, while the recreation hall of the Baptist church was transformed into an emergency hospital to care for the remainder of the injured.

Two Counties Offer Reward For Murderers

Butler And Lawrence Counties Offer $750 For Blumquist Slayers

HOPE TO SPUR WORK ON CASE

Lawrence County Offers $250 After Butler Posts $500 Reward In Case

After visiting the scene of the Frank L. Blumquist murder, yesterday afternoon, County Commissioners, P. O. Elder, Elmer Conner and F. R. Woods, this morning passed a resolution offering a reward of $250 for the detection and conviction of the persons or persons who committed the murder.

Action was taken by the Butler county commissioners yesterday, who offered a reward of $500. This makes a total of $750 offered by the two counties. Blumquist was murdered on August 21 on a lane near Portersville.

To Spur Efforts
Commissioners of the two counties have decided to offer the rewards in order to spur renewed efforts to apprehend the murderers.

Sheriffs, state police, and police officers of the two counties, as well as officials in Ohio, have been diligently at work on the case ever since the body of Blumquist was found, and while they have been able to secure a number of clues, none of them have resulted in the arrest of the guilty parties. It is believed that more than one person was concerned in the murder.

The resolution offering the reward by Lawrence county was prepared by County Solicitor William McElwee, Jr. It recites the circumstances of the crime, and the belief of the commissioners that every effort possible should be made to apprehend the guilty parties.

Passengers Calm On Stricken Liner

Radio Message Says Those Aboard Dixie Calm Awaiting Rescue

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—The 350 odd passengers and sailors aboard the stricken liner Dixie remained calm and in good spirits throughout the night as they awaited a break in the hurricane weather which would permit them to be rescued.

A message from the liner received here shortly before 8 a. m. revealed.

The message was radioed to S. Ira Cooper, manager of the Morgan Line, owners of the vessel, from his assistant, L. D. Ransom, who is a passenger aboard the Dixie.

Ransom's message read: "All well. Every member of crew has rendered perfect service. Passengers calm and in good spirits throughout entire event due to their confidence in the ability of the master and the officers. If reach Florida port will telephone you for instructions."

Ransom, on a vacation trip, boarded the Dixie, with his wife and small son, in New Orleans.

Cooper revealed that tentative plans of the Morgan Line call for the transfer of the Dixie's passengers to the L'Ocidente, a sister ship, which will transport them to Miami, from where they will be brought to New York by rail.

If the Dixie is in as good shape, as recent dispatches from the captain have indicated, Cooper said, it will be eased off the reef on which it is caught and proceed to New York under its own power.

TROPICAL HURRICANE HOWLING NORTHWARD IN FLORIDA REGION

Fear Death Toll Of 100 Will Be Increased Before Havoc Ends

WAR VETERANS CAMPS DESTROYED

Believe Passengers On Stricken Liner Dixie Will Be Taken Off

(International News Service)
Howling northward, with 100 known dead and property damage totaling millions in its wake, a savage tropical hurricane today threatened northern Florida and southern Georgia with the same destruction it wrought through Florida Keys while fear arose that the death toll might be doubled by nightfall as communications were slowly restored in parts of the storm-smashed region.

Greatest fear for a bigger toll was felt concerning the section around upper and lower Matecumbe Keys, where 700 war veterans were reported marooned following destruction of two FERA camps.

Unconfirmed reports that 400 to 500 had been killed in the Keys were received at Miami but were unsubstantiated by an International News Service checkup. Red Cross officials at Miami also said they had received no word indicating so great a death toll.

"We cannot accept individual reports or make predictions as to total number of deaths until a more complete survey is made," Red Cross headquarters said.

Lieut. Clemmer, a coast guard flier made an aerial survey of the stricken keys and reported he had been unable to locate most of the veterans housed there. A few were moving about near one camp, he said. Clemmer, estimating death toll in this area at about 100, refused to

You will note this is September and it's timely to remember that there's hurricanes brewing and there's rain clouds in the sky, and the reason is apparent, for these times it is inherent for my friends there's an election that is quickly drawing nigh. Candidates and all their talkers and the opposition squawkers simply flood the streets and alleys with their oratory blasts, and each day its coming nearer and the issues are much clearer and the folks are fondly hoping that each day will be the last. Soon the talking will be over and some lads will be in clover while still others will be downcast as they scan return sheets through, so be ready for the total every individual vote'll help somebody to election, weather's wet and seventy-two.

REPORT 700 ARE MAROONED

Matecumbe Key Swept By Storm

Coast Guard Sends Aid To Areas Reported Badly Stricken

FOOD AND SUPPLIES ARE BEING RUSHED

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.—Seven hundred persons on the hurricane-levelled Matecumbe Key, located halfway between Key West and the Florida mainland, were marooned early today and badly in need of food and medical aid.

This report was flashed to coast guard headquarters shortly after 3 a. m., by its coast guard station near the devastated Key.

"Exact condition of Keys veterans (FERA) camp not definitely known," the message said.

"No communication."

"Due hurricane veterans advise need of food and medical aid."

"FERA and Key West Red Cross endeavoring to rush supplies by truck Matecumbe Key and small boat ferry."

"It is requested to urge nearest destroyer bring supplies."

"Approximately 700 people marooned at Matecumbe Key."

Send Supplies.

The coast guard immediately dispatched two patrol boats, loaded with supplies, from its Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., base to the Snake river area and to Miami.

The Snake river area embraces the section where the devastated FERA camp is located, and also Matecumbe Key, where 700 persons were huddled together—marooned until relief from the mainland reaches them.

Later two more patrol boats left Ft. Lauderdale for the stricken area. This makes about five coast guard vessels, each carrying food and medical supplies, enroute to the area.

London, Sept. 4.—Cancellation of the Ethiopian oil concession by the American Standard Oil Co. is regarded in Rome as thrusting an embarrassing responsibility upon British shoulders. A Reuters dispatch from the Italian capital stated today.

Emergency Work Peak Is Passed Says President

Roosevelt Gives Opinion As New Executive Orders Are Made

(International News Service) HYDE PARK, N. Y., Sept. 4.—President Roosevelt today stated that the peak of the government's emergency work is passed.

The president gave this opinion as he made public the last of three executive orders placing all of the 20 emergency agencies and commissions under control of the budget bureau.

From now on, Mr. Roosevelt said, there will be a steady reduction in personnel in the emergency set-ups. All of these agencies henceforth must clear administrative expenses through the budget and cut down just as rapidly as the decline of emergency work warrants.

The seven agencies affected by today's order were, AAA, PWA, FERA, NRA, TVA, commodity credit corporation, and the office of federal coordinator of transportation. The other 14 had been grouped under two earlier orders.

The executive foresaw several of the emergency agencies gradually evolving into management corporations. As such, their operating costs will be much lower.

BRITISH FLEET STANDS GUARD AT SUEZ CANAL

to see French troops marching in their maneuvers. In Italy troops trains swarmed. The first sight for air passengers at Brindisi at the southern end of Italy was a trim Italian cruiser, and its bugle call accompanied us as we took off.

Fleet Of British Ships

Our first sight at Alexandria as we swept over the port was a fleet of British warships lying at anchor, with seven destroyers and three cruisers headed by the battleships Revenge and Valiant.

At Port Said we circled over the impressive bulk of the battleship Resolution and the Flotilla Leader Dispatch, resting smack in the entrance of the canal.

Tomorrow the airplane carrier Glorious is expected, and at the other end of the canal and all the way to Aden British warships are moving up to do their part if necessary to carry out the sanctions which the British government will ask the League to take against Mussolini, and which Mussolini says mean war.

Here in this key point of the conflict tension is great, and many Italian families and even some British families are moving out, while the flight of capital has assumed considerable proportions.

Military authorities today closed the motor road from Cairo to Suez and forbade vehicular traffic along the canal.

The French line operating in the Red Sea has ceased to accept any passengers for Abyssinia or any of the Somalilands except officials or newspapermen.

The canal administrations faces the embarrassing fact that if war should break out between Italy and Britain there are 800 Italian employees on the canal force.

Egyptians are nervous and resentful at the British, because now that there is even a remote possibility of events bringing them under Italian rather than British rule, they have suddenly discovered they like Britain's protection, but they are beginning to be skeptical as to whether it will be effective.

But it is not the Egyptians alone who are taking Italy very seriously. It is all the powers with shores on the Mediterranean.

It is generally realized now that Mussolini means it when he says he will fight against sanctions, because otherwise he would sacrifice his armies in Eritrea and Somaliland, which in turn would mean the fall of his regime.

Today the desire up and down the African and European coasts of the Mediterranean is not to stop Mussolini, but to stop the sanctions.

Meanwhile the British sea and air forces of this most ancient scene of battles await orders. Geneva today will tell what those orders will be.

Two Arrests For Robbing Office

Jess Keltly And Robert Brisbane Charged With Breaking Into Building

Jess Keltly and Robert Brisbane were arrested by Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard, County Detective Leslie and State Policeman McCullough yesterday afternoon, on a charge of robbing the Campbell Coal Company office at East New Castle. Sheriff Pritchard was notified of the robbery about noon and before evening had the alleged perpetrators in jail.

It is claimed that the Campbell Coal Company office and garage has been entered several times, and gasoline and machinery stolen. The officials recovered a 55 gallon drum of gasoline, which had been secreted in the bushes near the paper mill. They also secured a five gallon can of gasoline in the car of one of the men, they report.

An information was made against Keltly and Brisbane before Alderman Green and they will have a hearing.

League Efforts For Peace Meet With Obstacles

eight session of the league of nations council today by Captain Anthony Eden.

The suave young British diplomat, opening the momentous meeting called in a last desperate effort to keep Italy's guns silent on the Ethiopian front. First reported briefly on the failure of tri-partite negotiations undertaken at Paris in behalf of peaceful settlement.

"I wish to bring to the council," he then declared, "the assurance that his majesty's government will do everything in its power to ensure peaceful settlement of this dispute. 'Every nation represented at this table must surely desire this also.'"

"We Cannot Fail"

Reviewing the league of nations as an institution and the Kellogg-Briand pact as an instrument dedicated to the maintenance of peace, Captain Eden said:

"The machinery of a new order is here; if its spirit is here also, we cannot fail."

He took occasion then again to assure the members of Britain's most "wholehearted cooperation."

It was apparent he spoke with a confidence newly-born of the official admission in the United States that American and not British capital was solely concerned in the recent sensational oil concession granted by emperor Haile Selassie to the Secoray-Vacuum corporation and cancelled only a short while ago.

With the observation that "world opinion is watching us" Capt. Eden lost no time in coming to the nub of the situation. He started with a tribute to Italy but made it instantly clear Britain disapproves of premier Mussolini's method of tackling the Ethiopian problem.

BUSINESS AND GOVERNMENT

When we hire a city engineer we insist upon a qualified man for the job; when we hire a city solicitor we insist he shall be a competent attorney, and that the city health officer shall be a qualified physician.

Why not apply the same rule to council? The department of finance in city council should be filled by a competent accountant. He should be more than just a bookkeeper. He should be familiar with accounting practices, with budget-building and analysis.

As an accountant of twenty-five years experience, I submit that my qualifications are adequate for the job. I ask the support of Republican voters on September 17.

S. OF D. GIRLS PLAN WORK FOR WINTER

S. and D. Girls of the Central Presbyterian church, launched the fall and winter activities Tuesday evening, with a meeting at the church. The hostesses were Mrs. Harry Ruby, Mrs. Lowery Wilson, Mrs. Clarence Aiken and Mrs. George Stewart.

For the program, Mrs. Harry Sturdevant discussed the foreign topic, while Mrs. George Roof talked about the national topic. New business for the coming months was discussed, many interesting lines of work being planned. During the social hour, light refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Johnston Reunion
Descendants of John and Mary Jennings Johnston held their 25th annual reunion this year on the 31st of August, at the home of Mrs. King McDowell, only surviving one of seven children.

A good crowd attended, relatives coming from as far away as Iowa, Philadelphia and Cleveland. After the customary picnic dinner was enjoyed, a business meeting, with Ben McDowell presiding, featured an election which resulted as follows:

president, George Johnston; vice president, Robert Blevins; secretary, Edna Marshall; treasurer, Melvin Johnston.

Interesting remarks were heard Bert Calvin, Mrs. L. Bishop and Miss Frances McDowell. Concluding a very pleasant day, the families separated to meet again next year at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kennehan.

THE RURAL PRESS

THERE are some 15,500 newspapers and periodicals published in this country. The greatest proportion of them are small-town weeklies, dailies and semi-weeklies, and magazines whose principal appeal is to the rural dweller.

The importance, the influence, and the worth of these publications can hardly be exaggerated. They are, as the San Francisco Argonaut has written, "the chief influence in the thought habits of our rural population of fifty-four million." And the character of their content, both in news and editorial departments, well repays those who peruse them.

As a result, the recent contest held by the magazine "Country Home" to pick the best country newspaper correspondent in the United States, was of much more importance and interest than contests usually are. The winner, a woman, lives in a Missouri town which has a population of twenty-seven, and is fifteen miles from the nearest railroad. For forty-four years she has been local correspondent for a rural paper in her county.

Urban editors, on reading excerpts from her correspondence, have been amazed by its quality. It does not deal with crimes and misdemeanors. Instead it tells of the crops, of the trials, tribulations and achievements of farm people who rarely make the metropolitan headlines, but who, happily, are more numerous and more vital to the nation than our gangsters, our political and business renegades, and our ex-show-girl divorcees.

Most interesting of all, this woman's correspondence, fine as it is, is not greatly different from that of other rural correspondents. Winners of lesser prizes in the contest show the same qualities. The country newspaper, little known as it is to the city dweller, is one of the finest, most permanent, and most deservedly successful influences in our American life. Last, but not least, it is the outstanding guardian of the nation in upholding our Constitution and American ideals.

FATTED CALVES FOR JIMMY

Jimmy Walker, according to all the signs, will presently be coming back to New York. The federal government's experts have announced that they cannot prosecute him on charges of income tax evasion, and word seems to have gone out that if all is not forgiven, it is at least largely forgotten.

So Jimmy gets his mouth fixed to return; and Broadway, which can be depended upon to make a spectacle of itself at such times, prepares to welcome its favorite. The man who ran away when the going got tough will doubtless find a whole tableful of fatted calves awaiting him.

All this is more or less interesting to those of us who do not happen to dwell in New York. But there is, after all, nothing we can do about it. Jimmy Walker wasn't our mayor. If he is coming back, that is something for New York to worry about. New York will have to bear its cross alone.

THE HEALTH CENSUS

The U. S. public health service will start early in October to make a survey of 90 communities and rural areas in all parts of the country which for the first time in medical history will show how diseases and impairments are distributed as to geographical sections, sex, age and occupation.

The census will be taken by 5,000 relief workers, and will reach the peak in mid-winter, to be financed from federal work relief funds. A house-to-house canvass will be made to obtain data on diseases and medical treatment. A study will be made of health records kept by public agencies, hospitals and sick benefit associations composed of industrial workers. In each section a small group of those canvassed will be selected for physical examinations, so that accurate details will be obtained. Typical subjects of their particular community will be selected from a health viewpoint.

Tabulation of the reports should give the health service much information to enable it to lay out a program for the future, which doubtless will include plans on new lines for improvement of the public health. The survey will be of great importance to the communities and rural areas selected for the canvass by thousands from a class that is to share in public work as a part of the relief plans. A study of the distribution of diseases and physical impairments throughout the country is one of the most interesting and important of any yet undertaken by any branch of the federal government.

SANCTION

If there is a weakness among newspaper men—a question which is hardly debatable—it is their powerful predilection to the continued usage of a technical term they have but recently discovered. If the word is a good, strong, ringing word and readily adaptable to the headlines, it very shortly finds its place, whether we like it or not, in the national vocabulary. Thus, during the war, we read, heard and talked of "the big push" or various minor "pushes." When congress or the legislature is in session we are (or were; the word is nearly threadbare now) reading constantly of "probes." The word for today is "sanction."

Now there is not much wrong with "sanction" except that no more than one person in ten understands its current connotation without reference to the dictionary. Otherwise sanction is brief, it is at least 50 per cent technical (which adds to impressiveness), probably it is accurate as currently employed, and it looks well in the headlines. But adding to the confusion arising out of the lack of familiarity with it is the fact that "sanction" actually has two meanings which are almost opposite.

Thus, when we "sanction" a course of action or a single act, we approve or confirm it. But clearly this is not the meaning in the dispatches from the capitals of Europe, where the discussion all hinges on invoking "sanctions" against Italy in her African adventure. That is something else.

A "sanction" in this sense, according to our Webster, is "that which induces the observance of law or custom." In legal usage it is "the detriment" loss of reward, or other coercive intervention annexed to a violation of a law as a means of enforcing the law." In that sense it may be the invocation of a direct penalty or merely the adding of inconvenience to the violator in the consummation of the violation.

Thus, to invoke a sanction against Italy for precipitating war in Africa would be to inflict some penalty—economic, political, diplomatic—upon her which would either influence Italy to abandon the Ethiopian conquest or would penalize her for it.

What this country needs is less need.

UNCERTAINTY OF EMPLOYMENT PRODUCES DISCOURAGEMENT

Uncertainty discourages one more than anything else.

To be sure, some exceptional people like adventure well enough to accept hazards gladly; they seem to be able to wrest success out of everything to which they turn a hand. But most people are more or less susceptible to the feeling of uncertainty attendant upon financial insecurity.

They cannot be natural and do things naturally because they are not sure of their ground.

A day's work now and then may be acceptable but it does not give the feeling of security that a regular job would give.

Even a poor job, with sure pay is to be preferred to a better job with seasonal activity and more remuneration.

A job depends upon the weather, for instance, is an uncertainty.

If you have that kind of a job, it behooves you to find something else that can be done just as well or the days you find yourself idle.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

STRANGE

At Hurley, an Ozark town in Missouri, Dr. Omar Palmer, who owns up to seventy-seven years, treats all patients without cost.

His real identity is said to be unknown to the people of Hurley "Palmer" being the name he gave himself three years ago when he appeared in the "Ozarks" to devote the rest of his years to healing the sick among the hill folk.

In those years, he has treated 23,000 persons without charging a cent although keeping up an expensive laboratory with assistants some of whom are paid as much as $25.00 a day in wages.

Dr. Palmer is busy all day long, treating as many as fifty persons daily. Most of the medicines given his patients are made from native roots and herbs.

The failure of the Ozark inhabitants to identify Palmer is curious. It is difficult to imagine a physician who does not display his college diploma.

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

A RUG IS MADE
Somewhere in Persia years ago,
Or so the story runs,
A family I'll never know
With six or seven sons
And lovely daughters eight or nine;
A bread loaf and a jug,
Using the "tree of life" design
Began to weave a rug.

They wove by day and wove by night,
Their fingers seldom still.
A bird at rest, a bird in flight,
They wove with magic skill.
Through days of weal and days of woe
The pattern lovelier grew.
But where that rug at last would go
I'm sure they never knew.

I'm told the dear old mother died
Long ere the task was done.
Before the last small knot was tied
The father journeyed on.
But still the family wove with care
Nor bitter sighs and tears
Nor all the heartaches mortals bear
Could stay those toilsome years.

So said the tale, I almost wept
To hear it told to me.
At Kermanshah that rug was kept
'Till nineteen thirty-three.
And they by camel and by cart
'Twas carried to the sea.
And yesterday a salesman smart
Unloaded it to me.

The real test of any medicine is what it will do in cases of long-time suffering. That is why the new, scientific mixture of Natural plant extracts, known as Indo-Vin, continues to increase in SALES and DEMAND in the city of New Castle and general vicinity. In fact, this remarkable compound, which is being introduced to crowds daily here in New Castle, at Eckerd's Drug Store, has now become the SENSATION OF THE DRUG WORLD of this entire section and leading druggists are amazed at the demand and say that nothing like it has ever been seen here before.

Why Its Benefits Are So Lasting!

Following is a truthful account telling what Indo-Vin will do for you. This account is substantiated by the signed statements of hundreds of widely-known men and women, many living right here in New Castle who have publicly endorsed this new, natural medicine and urge ALL WHO SUFFER to get it and take it. This truthful account reads as follows:

Indo-Vin will cleanse your bowels (gradually—not drastic or severe) as they were NEVER CLEANSSED BEFORE, bringing out impurities that may have been the cause of headaches, dizzy spells and lazy, tired feeling.

IT WILL relieve acid conditions and make the stomach and digestive organs sweet and clean.

IT WILL act as a diuretic to sluggish kidneys and flush out quantities of impurity that may have become dammed up inside, causing SHARP PAINS AND RISING AT NIGHT.

IT WILL make your liver more active; will work the old bile from the liver as black as ink, thus relieving spells of biliousness. In many cases Indo-Vin changes one's entire appearance; it will build you up in general and make you LOOK, ACT AND FEEL like a DIFFERENT MAN OR WOMAN, years younger than your real age. For instance, following are JUST ing M. E. church next Monday evening, September 9, in the former's home on Garfield avenue. This will be the first meeting of the fall and during the evening, activities of the coming winter will be discussed.

MRS. A. W. PHILLIPS

A FEW testimonials, from among the HUNDREDS that are being received from this vicinity, praising Indo-Vin, describing its action and urging sufferers to get it and take it. Read these statements:

Awful Stomach Agony Relieved Months Ago!

MRS. A. W. PHILLIPS, of 110 W. Cherry Ave., Washington, Pa., said: (photo appears above) "I have been FREE OF STOMACH TROUBLE nearly a year, and I don't need medicine any more, since I took Indo-Vin eleven months ago. My stomach used to be so bad that everything I tried to eat would turn into gas and bloat inside of me and I couldn't eat a hearty meal like a normal person does, for my meals caused so much suffering that I was almost afraid to try to eat. I thought I would never find anything to help me, for I had tried medicine upon medicine, but when I got Indo-Vin I took command of my trouble FROM THE START. My meals are digesting perfectly now. My food agrees with me, and I never turn sour and form gas in my stomach like it used to. My stomach hasn't given me a bit of trouble since I took Indo-Vin, ALMOST A YEAR AGO."

Rheumatic Pains Gone Eight Months!

MR. T. W. ZENDE, of 1503 Brighton Rd., Pittsburgh, Pa., says: "Those awful rheumatic pains have never bothered me since I took Indo-Vin over eight months ago. My affliction kept getting worse all the time and finally I got to where I was in CONSTANT pain and misery with it. It would strike me first in one arm and then in the other and then it would go into my hips and I also had it very bad in my knees and even had it in the back of my neck. In short, it just seemed like my WHOLE SYSTEM was poisoned and full of rheumatic pains. My condition was awful and in YEARS that had any effect on me, and it has worked the misery out of my whole body, and now I can walk without limping and the pains have entirely disappeared. I am 71 years old and I will recommend this medicine if I live to be a hundred."

SUFFERERS! This is the medicine that MILLIONS are talking about. It has ASTOUNDING community after community, and it costs but a FEW CENTS A DAY to take the Indo-Vin treatment, so it would certainly be a mistake not to give this new scientific medicine a trial. NOW BEING introduced to large crowds daily here in New Castle at Eckerd's Drug Store. Also being sold in all the nearby towns by every good druggist throughout this whole section.

Jury Frees Man On Old Charge Of Slaying Daughter

Greensburg Jury Acquits Father Of Murder Charge
19 Years Old

(International News Service)
GREENSBURG, Pa., Sept. 4.—A jury of New Kensington, for 19 years, was gone today.

A jury in Westmoreland county court after four hours deliberation acquitted him of a charge of murdering his daughter, Mrs. Mae Barnes Bishop, 22, in New Kensington, 19 years ago.

Only two witnesses were called by the defense. One was Barnes himself, for many years believed dead, and George Bishop, the girl's husband and only eye witness.

Barnes, a broken, gray-haired man, testified in a low voice he had merely meant to frighten his daughter when she interfered in a quarrel with his wife. Bishop was unable to state definitely whether Barnes had really intended to shoot his daughter.

Charles J. Hanna, the state policeman who arrested Barnes near Evans City, said the man told him he had gone to the home of his wife, from whom he was estranged, "to give her a scare."

The policeman testified Barnes told him after the shooting he "planted" a coat on the bank of the Allegheny river to make it appear he had ended his life. Then, according to Hanna's testimony, Barnes said he rowed across the river and stayed with relatives, finally drifting to Buffalo, N. Y. During the years of his wandering he suffered "nightmares" constantly, Hanna said the man told him, and his conscience finally drove him to return. A man he befriended gave police the tip Barnes could be found on a chicken farm near Evans City.

Long Will Be Campaign Issue

Administration Would Be Glad To See Long Defeated In Home State

LOUISIANA TO BE INVADED

Central Press Washington Bureau 1900 S Street
By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.—Senator Huey P. Long will not be the sole issue in the 1936 political campaign, but he will be an issue and an important one. Let no one make any mistake about that. The effort to beat the Kingfish will be Herculean. Administrationists gladly would see a Republican senator elected in Louisiana to eliminate him. Of course, however, that can't occur. It is for re-nomination that administrationists will try to defeat him. They admit it is more than doubtful that they can do it, but they think maybe they can prevent him from extending his sphere of influence beyond the borders of the Creole state, by keeping him too busy at home to invade Arkansas, Mississippi and even more distant commonwealths, as he has threatened.

SUCCESS AS INVADER
Senator Long, as will be recalled, did invade Arkansas in 1932, on a spellbinding tour in behalf of Mrs. Senator Hattie W. Caraway, and she won, against the expert guessing of most of the politicians in the state. In 1934 he invaded Mississippi, to fight Senator Hubert D. Stephens' re-nomination. And Senator Stephens lost.

Next year the Kingfish plans to re-invade Arkansas, in an attempt to beat Senator Joseph T. Robinson's re-nomination, and Mississippi, in an attempt to beat Senator Pat Harrison's. He even has offered to go as far afield as Minnesota, to help Senator Thomas D. Schall, who, though a Republican, has been friendly to the southern slogan a time or two in legislative debate.

SITUATION MAY CHANGE
But the situation may not be, in 1936, what it was in 1932 and 1934. In 1936 Huey himself will be a re-nomination candidate, and this time HIS state is sure to be invaded by outsiders. Perhaps they won't leave him much leisure to do much invading on his own account.

I have a suspicion that the Kingfish has "slipped" a trifle, too—possibly not in Louisiana, but in adjoining territory. Unquestionably he was a potent influence in Mrs. Caraway's victory in Arkansas and in Theodore G. Bilbo's over Senator Stephens in Mississippi. And Bilbo has been distinctly hostile to him in the senate. Indeed, a few days ago Mississippi had a gubernatorial primary, in which a pro-Long candidate and an anti-Long candidate opposed one another—and the anti-Long candidate won; skimpily, but he won. If the Kingfish can't successfully combat anti-Long treason in Mississippi, how can he hope to combat it in Arkansas?

WHAT DO YOU SAY?
Appealing to readers to write to me, I undertook a little plebiscite of my own two years ago, in an endeavor to determine the extent of the strength of Huey Long.

The reaction, naturally, was very strongly in his favor in Louisiana, pretty strongly in his favor in Mississippi and Arkansas, moderately in his favor in Oklahoma and Arizona, and, for some unexplained reason, quite noticeably in his favor in Maine and Michigan.

I think it would be interesting to get a similar reaction now—and invite correspondence on the subject.

MAY BE A FACTOR
Not that I imagine Huey Long can be elected president.

But he might be a deciding factor. Conservatism is afraid of him. New Dealism is afraid of him. He worries even radical progressiveism as irresponsible.

They all hope to squelch him in Louisiana, but they have not much confidence in their ability to accomplish that. Failing, at least they trust they may succeed in preventing him from spreading into Missouri, Arkansas and still farther.

Work Projects Face Oblivion

Municipalities Hurry To Reshape Plans Before Deadline

APPLICATIONS DUE SEPT. 7

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.—Thousands of public work projects faced oblivion today, as municipalities struggled to reshape their plans in time to get them before Harry L. Hopkins, works progress administrator, before the Sept. 12 deadline.

For most of them, the time is less than a week. Telegrams being rushed from the PWA, whose program has been effectively sidetracked by the deadline order, warned that applications should be in by Sept. 7, where possible.

CWA May Return
PWA administrator Ickes indicated that as far as his office is concerned, the September 12 deadline will not be too rigidly observed. Many applications must clear Hopkins' force however. Many municipalities will not get warning in time to meet the date limit, it was feared.

The change in plans was made to speed employment. Hopkins recently made an onslaught on Ickes' entire PWA program, on the ground that it was not fast enough to meet winter employment needs.

What is foreseen by informed Washington sources is a return to the old CWA in other forms for many communities, as the time limit precludes any well-organized stable employment program.

Plan Planting Of More Trees

Fifteen Million Baby Trees Will Be Planted In Pennsylvania

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Sept. 4.—Fifteen million baby trees—an addition of 5,000,000 seedlings to the present state program—will be planted annually in Pennsylvania beginning in 1936 to help mother earth keep her figure through the years.

Announcement of the one-third increase in the soil erosion program was made today by secretary of the U. S. Forest Service, Thomas C. Buchanan. The planting will be carried out by the soil erosion service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, with seedlings raised in the state's four nurseries.

In order to meet the 15,000,000-a-year output, the largest ever undertaken by the forests and waters department, production at the Clearfield, Greentown, Mont Alto, and Penn nurseries will be increased immediately, Buchanan said.

Branch, pitch, red, scotch, white, short-leaf and loblolly pines have been requested by the government for the program. The trees will be planted on denuded areas of sub-marginal land in the state as such property is acquired by the federal government.

NAVAL NOTES

By M. L. NIXON
Naval Recruiter, Second Floor Federal Building

To wear spurs with the naval uniform and to bring a horse aboard ship is the privilege of one class of officer in the British navy, and only one. The officer is a major of marines aboard a flagship. Neither the spurs nor horse are permitted in the naval forces of the United States.

Another oddity of the British navy is the fact that only aboard a warship is it permissible to drink the king's health sitting. The practice goes back to Nelson's time. In those days the overheads or ceilings in the messrooms were so low that in order to drink the king's health involved bumping one's head; hence the latitude that prevails today. There are no intoxicants permitted in the messrooms of an American man-o-war.

President Roosevelt is an international authority on naval history, and his collection of naval literature is regarded among the finest.

It took four years, nine and one-half months to build a battleship, the U. S. S. California, flagship of the battle force, U. S. fleet.

If the U. S. S. Saratoga, one of Uncle Sam's latest aircraft carriers, were placed one end in the center of the Diamond at the corners of Washington and Jefferson streets, it would be equivalent in height to a ten-story building and as wide as the park in the Diamond. One of these ships ordinarily carry from 70 to 80 planes, depending upon the type. The ship is manned by 169 officers and 1730 enlisted men.

Miss Calvin Writes From Great Liner

Local High School Teacher Returns Following Trip Abroad

Miss Elsie Calvin, local high school teacher, who is returning from a trip abroad, writes an interesting letter to Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Rantz, from aboard the giant French liner, Normandie, telling of the interesting sights she witnessed and of the wonders of the palatial boat on which she returned.

She says the Normandie is the last word in size, speed and beauty, which pictures and descriptions fail to do justice.

Miss Calvin spent a week in Paris, and then took a 20 day trip through Alsace-Lorraine, Germany, Austria, and then through the Dolomites and Swiss and Italian Alps, where she also visited the lake region.

A day or two at a time were spent in such interesting cities. Two days were also spent at the Brussels World's Fair, and a week at the International Education Conference at Oxford, Eng., followed by a week in London.

Senators Map Out New Plans

Will Drive For Legislation
To Prevent Future Oil Concessions

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.—Spurred by the Italo-Ethiopian imbroglio, a determined group of senators today mapped a drive for legislation to prevent just such a coup as that consummated by American and British interests in Ethiopia.

Senator Gerald P. Nye (R) North Dakota, who, as chairman of the senate munitions investigating committee, was largely responsible for the neutrality legislation enacted by the last congress, is leading the movement. Nye and his supporters were never satisfied with the legislation as enacted, and wanted it to include an embargo on American credit.

No Protection
Now they want to include in the neutrality legislation a provision which will state to American capital going abroad that it cannot expect the protection of the nation's armed forces.

Fresh from a survey of the eastern coast, Nye said:

"This situation brings up an entirely new set of circumstances. In my opinion, a strict and comprehensive neutrality policy should embrace more than was even originally contemplated by the senate's munitions committee, subsequent events have shown that that development in the Ethiopian situation have shown, vividly, the need of such legislation as was enacted by the session of congress which just concluded. Only, he thinks it didn't go half far enough.

Nye pointed out that developments in the Ethiopian situation have shown, vividly, the need of such legislation as was enacted by the session of congress which just concluded. Only, he thinks it didn't go half far enough.

Police chronology for 24 hours ending at 2:30 p. m. September 3, six arrests on charges as follows: Disorderly conduct 4, suspicion 1 and drunkenness 1.

Building operations showed a slight increase during August, according to statistics released for publication today by Neil Williams of the city engineer's office. The total monetary outlay for new and old building amounted to $12,770. Of this amount $9,380 was for new materials and the balance for remodeling.

John Young, colored, dog catcher for the city, has not been paid by the state for ears collected from dogs for the past several months, it became known in city hall today. This came to light when Solicitor Robert White received a reply from Fred Walzer, department of agriculture, Harrisburg, in which Walzer said complaints had been made against Young and that there is a question as to whether a dog catcher is a sworn in officer. Further, Walzer inferred that dogs were dispatched on public highways here as the letter stated that while school children are taught to be kind to dumb animals, one of the cruellest acts that could be seen was the shooting of a dog on a public highway. White had recommended that a dog pound be established and the keeper be placed on salary. Unlicensed dogs could be put to death in a humane manner, or via the chloroform route. Dogs which have licenses could be redeemed or sold and this money be turned back into general revenue for the purpose of paying the dog pound keeper's salary. Walzer believed the recommendations worthy.

Carmi Glover, in charge of department of sewers, stated today that city employees have practically completed a 36-inch storm sewer in Wilson avenue which will drain surface water into a Gaston park stream. Glover also said that a force of men had been put to work in Quest street which was undermined by a storm recently.

Rules have been simplified considerably. The main requirement is that entries be made before 2 p. m. Friday. Judging will take place soon afterward.

Vegetables, garden flowers and novelties may be displayed. There will be no charge for making entries nor for admission to the show. Ribbons will be given as prizes.

UNION CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR
The monthly union meeting of the young people of the vicinity was held in the Bethel church Sunday evening, with over a hundred in attendance, with Almira Pitts and Robert Enslin as leaders. Rev. Shoemaker of the Westfield church gave an interesting address. A musical selection was rendered by Leah Brest, Mary Ellen Gwin and Robert Henderson.

The next meeting will be at Moravia on Sunday, October 6.

Mrs. Ada McFate, New Castle, visited her daughter, Mrs. Harold Wallace, recently.

W. C. Casto and son William attended the home-coming services at Savannah church last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Raney, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Cameron and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Kerr were among the ones from here to visit the Ohio state fair last week.

Mr. Roosevelt knows the art of holding followers. They might lose interest if they knew where they were going.

Stimulating... BUT NEVER IRRITATING

On Court House Hill

County Treasurer William O. Pitts has begun issuing 1935 hunting licenses. The first license was issued to Alderman O. H. P. Green.

Miss Emma Carson, Deputy Prothonotary, is back to her desk after enjoying a two weeks vacation.

Sale of property in Ellwood City by Ray H. Aylesworth, receiver of the Pittsburgh company to C. J. Haswell, was confirmed by court this morning.

Registration books were closed by Registering Clerk, Thomas Edmunds, last night at midnight. No more voters can be registered for the coming primary.

Fireman E. C. McCracken has had fire in the court house heating plant since last Saturday. It is the first time in years that he has had to fire up so early.

Sixty instruments of all kinds were entered at the register and recorder's office last week. There were 34 deeds and 17 mortgages. Three of the mortgages were to the Home Owners Loan Corporation, and one to the Joint Stock Land Bank.

Constables are preparing their lists of deputies for the coming primaries. The constable of each ward, borough or township, where there is more than one precinct, must have a deputy at each. The deputies are recommended by the constables and confirmed by the court.

A subpoena in divorce has been issued in the case of Mary Ann Hoke against John William Hoke, the former of 16 West Falls street and the latter of 314 Cottage street. They were married in August 1924. Application is made on the grounds of desertion.

The county has no projects on at the present time, except some repairs that are being made to bridges. Commissioners have been trying to get the bridges in good shape for the coming winter.

The county treasurer's office has been brightened by a beautiful bouquet of dahlias, the gifts of Mrs. W. O. Taylor, of North Beaver township. They are regular jumbos, some of them being over six inches wide.

It is reported that some of the school board secretaries have not yet sent their reports to Harrisburg. Secretaries are expected to furnish reports of receipts and expenses to the state department, not later than September 1, in order that the amount of the state appropriation may be determined.

Mystery of what became of the court house benches is still unsolved. One report is that they were taken away because program solicitors and agents used them for a roost, while awaiting county officials who were not in their offices. The theory seems to have been that they would not hang around so long if they had to stand.

Registering assessors in borough and townships are expected to return their books to the county commissioner's office not later than tomorrow evening. They were taken out in order to allow the registrations of persons who may have been missed in the regular registration, those who might have moved, or who wanted to change their party affiliation.

PUSH MOVE TO PUT STATE MEN TO WORK

State Authority Goes Into Action

List Of Projects Prepared And Sent To Washington For Approval

AWAIT DECISIONS ON PROJECT LISTS

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Sept. 4.—Organized and ready to "do business" with the federal government in carrying out an $83,000,000 PWA state building program, the general state authority today awaited action from Washington as the next move in the task of putting more Pennsylvanians back to work.

Electing Gov. H. Earle as its president, the authority completed its organization and by resolution assumed sponsorship of the voluminous list of departmental projects. In addition to some $18,000,000 in proposals already approved in Washington, a list of projects estimated to cost $70,000,000 was prepared and speeded to the capitol city. All PWA applications must be submitted by September 12.

List Of Projects
Meanwhile, the authority made public a list of completed projects totaling $16,048,120, from five state departments, all of which are ready for immediate consideration by PWA authorities in addition to the projects in Washington.

Individual projects included:
Department of welfare—Huntingdon Industrial school, $556,940; Pennsylvania Training school at Morgantown, $123,000; hospital building at Western Penitentiary, $96,200; Torrance State Hospital, $919,670; Polk State school, $50,000; Selinsgrove colony for epileptics, $1,039,205; Warren State Hospital, $165,000.

Department of public instruction: Edinboro Teachers college, $750,000; Indiana Teachers college, $55,000; Mansfield Teachers college, $35,000.

Department of agriculture—Additions to farm show building, $901,200.

Department of military affairs—62 bathhouses and 170 mess halls at Indian town Gap, $743,650.

Tribute Is Paid To Late Pastor

A tribute of regard and sympathy was paid to the memory of the late Rev. Henry C. Weaver, D. D., and his grief-stricken widow, on last Sunday morning by the congregation of Trinity church, Oil City, which the New Castle minister had served for seven years.

Voicing the sentiments of all, while the congregation stood in silent reverence, Rev. Edward G. Schutz, the pastor, stated that the loss of Dr. Weaver is "universally felt in this church and city."

"We will ever hold in memory his gracious ministry in our homes, when we endured sorrow, or walked in gladness; when he preached in old Trinity pulpit his most effective messages from his Master's Word," the Trinity pastor said, in part.

A beautiful floral tribute of loving memory was in the two golden vases upon the church altar.

FORMER LOCAL MAN IS VISITING HERE

H. R. McMurray, of Lake Wales, Florida, a former New Castle resident, is enjoying a few days visit with Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth McMurray, of West Grant street and Mary and John McMurray of Harlanburg.

Mr. McMurray, who has been residing in Florida for nearly 10 years, annually comes into contact with many New Castle residents at Bok Tower, where he is in charge of the literature.

Canyon To Catskills.
Labor Day's Meaning.
The Scorched Faces.
Walter Still Comes Along.
By ARTHUR BRISBANE

TO BE IN California, looking at the Pacific and talking to the organizers one day, and next day, in these placid Catskill Mountains close to the Atlantic, proves that the man has conquered distance and the law of gravitation satisfactorily.

Traveling three thousand miles in a big airship in sixteen hours will seem slow travel in years to come, when it will be:

"Breakfast at eight anywhere in the United States and lunch in New York, luncheon in Paris."

THESE SMALL, soft, rolling green mountains and shallow valleys are soothing, after the sharp, jagged, brown bare peaks of the Rocky Mountains, going west, and the flat deserts, high mountains of the "great divide" and stupendous wonders of the Grand Canyon, flying east.

This "little scenery," like that along the English Thames, inclines man to hope:

"I may amount to something, after all."

He knows better, and resumes mentally his normal microbe proportions when he looks a mile down into the canyon from a height seven thousand feet above the rim, studies two separate worlds each with its own rain and lightning, at the same time, sees ahead of his plane, and above it a jet black cloud a full mile high, filled with lightning.

ALL THAT makes you wonder why it seemed necessary to add "proud man" to such overwhelming scenery, and brings back your childhood hymn, sung at the Jacksonville, New Jersey Sunday school:

"Alas, and did my Saviour bleed and did my Saviour die; would He devote that sacred head for such a worm as I?"

Such worms as we are seem hardly worth bothering about, unless in some mysterious way we are to be made useful, eventually.

LABOR DAY is a day for thought, apart from actual labor.

All men worth while are laborers, with mere muscle, or physical strength plus skill, or more important, workers with the mind.

The laborer is worthy of his hire, and that includes the mental laborer, who shows the coal or gold miner WHERE to dig, making his digging profitable, also the tireless laborer of the mind who creates a great industry, providing jobs, increasing human comfort and luxury, the latter vitally important to human happiness.

THE INDUSTRIAL, or mining, or commercial brain-laborer may amass a great fortune as a by-product of his work, but the wise American does not resent that. He knows that prosperity in a democracy comes from building up, not from tearing down. And our system that leaves fortunes to be squandered by irresponsible children soon disperses wealth.

To protect the workers from injustice and exploitation by unfair wages or hours, and protect unusual ability, useful to all, from unjust confiscation, by taxation or otherwise, leaving all men equal in OPPORTUNITY, is the idea that should prevail on this day that celebrates honest work, and not mean ENVY.

ABYSSINIA'S RAIN season is ending, and that land of troubles that have spread over thousands of years will soon deal with new troubles. There is comfort in the knowledge that trouble coming now will transform a beautiful section of the earth from barbarism to civilization, from a land of wandering savage, cruel tribes, to homes for millions of industrious human beings, with infinitely greater peace and happiness for the natives than they have ever known.

KING HAILE SELASSIE, also known as the "Negus," who signs his name, officially "Power of the Trinity" and "Conquering Lion of Judah," thinks he descends in a direct line from King Solomon and the Queen of Sheba, and is mistaken about that, rules a strange land, as indicated by its name, Abyssinia and Ethiopia.

Abyssinia, more correctly spelled Habeshia, comes from an Arabic word Habesh which means mixture or confusion, and was applied by the Arabs because of the mixed character of the people. Mussolini and others following him in power will make the race more homogeneous.

THE OTHER NAME, Ethiopia, comes from two Greek words, meaning "to burn" and "the countenance" of the people the Greeks named them "the scorched faces."

A message from the king of those scorched faces has made England's "face red," to use a favorite Americanism.

King Haile gave half his land for oil and mineral exploitation to an "Anglo-American" company.

England said:

"I refuse to take it."

The King replied:

"I never gave it to England, I gave it, on proper terms of remuneration, and prompt, efficient development to some very pleasant American gentlemen."

It has been said, but denied that the leader of those pleasant Americans is connected with Standard Oil. This company has enterprises all over the earth in Mesopotamia, where Damascus blades were made, and humanity got its start from the fertility of the two great rivers: the far Tibet and Tartary, where women cook food and store yak's milk and butter in old Rockefeller kerosene tin cans; near the Caspian Sea, where Marco Polo heard that the oil was good for camels with the mangle, not dreaming that men would use it to fly.

WALTER TEAGLE, head of Standard Oil of New Jersey, makes business deals, and his company will not ask the government to send any of "our boys" to shed their blood protecting Standard Oil's rights. He has a better system; pays his men well, looks after their health, establishes hospitals, reduces the death rate, keeps his contracts.

A LITTLE while ago, this writer, accepting an invitation to play a few holes of golf, with Mr. Rockefeller senior, at his Florida place, remarked to the creator of the oil industry:

"You have a very able man in Mr. Teagle."

Mr. Rockefeller, to whom a man of sixty seems a toddling child, replied:

"Yes, Walter's coming along, Walter's coming along."

Walter Teagle seems to be still coming along. If there is oil in Ethiopia and the concession should fall to his company, his engineers will find that oil, and if they find gold, silver or copper also, that will be quite all right.

Propose Giant Dams On Clarion

State Engineers Study Project—Early Hearing Is Anticipated

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Sept. 4.—A proposal of private industry to harness the Clarion river with two giant dams, the larger creating a 48-mile reservoir with four times the capacity of famed Pymatuning, was being studied by state engineers today for early hearing before the water and power resources board.

Construction of the larger of the two power projects would mean the inundation of 894 acres of the Cook Forest Reserve, virtually one-eighth the state-owned tract of virgin pine and hemlock.

In all, 12,850 acres of land in Clarion, Forest, Jefferson and Elk counties would be covered by the man-made river reservoirs. Bridges, highways, a railroad right of way, and homes would surrender to the gigantic power development.

Part of an expansion program of the Associated Gas and Electric system, the projects were submitted for state approval by the Clarion River Power company, an A. G. E. subsidiary.

First filed almost 10 years ago, the applications have since been studied and revised, state and company engineers checking data for presentation to the board. Recently, International News Service learned today, the sponsors requested early consideration of the proposals, and the board is expected to speed the investigation and order a hearing in the near future.

"ACCENT ON YOUTH"

After some rather strenuous efforts to find something to "pin" on me as a Republican candidate for mayor, persons opposed to me have discovered the amazing fact that I am a young man. To save them time and energy I will plead guilty to the indictment. I have not yet reached my thirtieth birthday. May I suggest that the history of this city, county, state and nation is replete with the records of young men. United States Senators La Follette, Holt, Nye and others are young men. Some of the best city and county officials we have ever had have been young men. Certainly there is nothing peculiar to the City of New Castle that a man must have reached the old man stage before being elected to office. Isn't it about time we elected a young man as mayor, that the office might get the advantage of the enthusiasm, the courage and the vision that goes with youth?

I solicit your support.

Merry Battle For Positions On Ellwood Team

Squad Shows Promise Into Shaping For Serious Contender In District

LETTERMEN AND VETS FIGHT HARD

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 4.—There is no need for alarm or fear. The heavy thuds and clashing heard last week near the Lincoln high school and the down town vicinity, was only the 75 grid candidates of Coach "Denny" Schill and Assistant "Dutch" Croft, rounding into shape and battling for positions on Ellwood high's 1935 eleven.

And what a merry battle it is turning out to be. Lincoln field is a bee hive of activity. There is no loafing. Until the coaches come out onto the field the entire squad is doing something useful, such as punting, passing, charging, blocking, or limbering up. "This certainly is a sight to gladden the heart," Coach Schill, stated. These boys were all told once what is expected of them.

The first week of conditioning and drilling on fundamentals has seen the entire squad through with-out any serious casualty. Coach Schill spent most of this time in offensive work. This week he will begin on defense. The nine lettermen are being given plenty of competition by the veterans and new recruits.

The first scrimmage was held Monday morning and another one yesterday afternoon. Working three plays the A team proceeded to go to town. It was composed of Hughes and Flannagan at the ends, Dauten and Tammara at the guards, Pratt center, Luxenberg quarterback, Young and Bogosky at the halves, and Scopelotte at fullback. These were replaced by Hazen and Sam at ends, H. Young and Carl Zeigler tackles, Perry and Gibb guards, M. Young center, Robuck quarterback, Metz and Deemer halfbacks, and Biego fullback. They played against a heavy scrub team, that gave good opposition. During the scrimmage Coach Schill made changes and conducted experiments with his material. His chief problem is developing a good pair of tackles. There is big green material which will have to be given considerable attention. Coach Schill will send his A and B team into a long scrimmage session by the end of the week. They will have a few more plays by then.

Great Britain and Italy Maneuver Their Fleets in Mediterranean

While the Ethiopian army digs trenches along the Italian frontiers for the threatened invasion of Italy, Great Britain and Italy look to their naval power. Great Britain, at this stage, is a decidedly interested but anxious spectator over Italy's fleet maneuvers in the Mediterranean and near the Suez canal. The British have sent their ships of war to various strategic places along the Arabian coast where strong British fortresses are maintained for protection of the Suez canal. Italy is conducting war maneuvers on the Mediterranean and is sending troops via water in preparation for invasion of Ethiopia.

County Schools Now In Session

All Schools In County District Have Opened For Fall Term, Sylling States

NO ATTENDANCE FIGURES GIVEN

All the rural schools of Lawrence county are now in session. County Superintendent of Schools John C. Sylling stated this morning. While the attendance figures are not available as yet, indications point to a record enrollment in the various schools of the county, and a good year is looked forward to, he stated.

The first of the schools opened on Monday, Scott township being the first to start. Many others followed on Tuesday, and today found the last of the school districts resuming.

MIAMI RUSHES AID TO STRICKEN AREAS

From St. Petersburg, reported to have borne the brunt of the storm also, advised that a 100-mile an hour wind was still howling through the city's streets. Wires and radio facilities from that point were swept away before comprehensive information could be forwarded.

Report 700 Stranded.

Jacksonville, Fla., Sept. 4.—Unconfirmed reports received by coast guard headquarters here early today indicated that approximately 700 persons are stranded on Matecumbe Key, half way between the Florida mainland and Key West.

A large number of this group are believed to be war veterans who were unsuccessful in an attempt to escape from the Keys before the hurricane struck.

May Hit Western Florida.

Jacksonville, Fla., Sept. 4.—The fierce hurricane which swept over southern Florida yesterday, leaving death and destruction in its wake, is showing "recurring tendencies" and may sweep over western Florida today, the weather bureau here reported this morning.

The centre of the storm is now out over the Gulf of Mexico, the meteorologists reported. If it should turn, Tampa and St. Petersburg, the largest towns on the west coast, would be directly in its path.

Freighter Aground.

Miami, Fla., Sept. 4.—A British freighter, the S. S. Capulet, ran aground early today off the great Isaac lighthouse in the Bahamas, 65 miles due east of here, according to radio reports received here today. First reports had placed the vessel in the Florida Keys.

Only fragmentary reports were received here and the extent of the trouble could not be learned. Both the U. S. coast guard station and tropical radio were attempting to obtain more complete details.

Moving North.

Jacksonville, Fla., Sept. 4.—At 8 a. m. (CST) the tropical storm was central in the Gulf of Mexico and moving slowly in northerly direction attended by winds of full hurricane intensity, the U. S. weather bureau here reported.

Indications were the center will pass near Cedar Key early today. Heavy gales are expected over north Florida east of Carra Belle. Southeast storm warnings were ordered along the east coast from Fernandina to Titusville.

Report Damage.

Mobile, Ala., Sept. 4.—The U. S. coast guard stations here received a dispatch from St. Petersburg, Fla., at 9 a. m. (CST) today estimating considerable property damage caused by the hurricane but no known deaths.

Valuable marine equipment was reported damaged or lost. The message said it was impossible to ascertain the damage at Tarpon Springs and Clearwater.

Minor Damage In Tampa.

Tampa, Fla., Sept. 4.—A survey by police at 9 a. m. today revealed that the tropical hurricane which swept ashore shortly after midnight left only minor property damage in Tampa, but the fate of nearby cities was unknown here. All forms of communication were rendered useless by the terrific storm. In the suburban sections, however, no loss of life was reported. Only minor property damage was suffered.

Lieut. J. L. Edding of the police department said a thorough check of the hospital showed no persons had been admitted for injuries as a result of the storm which struck with full force shortly after midnight and continued until almost daylight.

John Lombardo, who lives at 224 South Wayne street, said he was in a car parked about sixty feet north of where the two men were struck. He heard the noise and saw people running, and went to the scene. He helped Nick Domenick put Carmen Domenick in his car and drove to a doctor's office in the seventh ward. The doctor ordered the man taken to the hospital.

He said he saw Mr. and Mrs. Moran at the hospital.

Lombardo's story was corroborated by Carmen Cardella, who with two other young men, was in the Lombardo car.

Mrs. Moran's story.

Mrs. Eva Moran, the driver of the car, was next summoned. She said that she is 20 years of age and married with her husband at 113 North Liberty street.

On the day her uncle was struck, she said the car was kept at a garage at her mother's home on South Liberty street. That she had gotten the car out without her husband's knowledge and in company with her sister and two little nieces and her infant son, had gone for a drive around the southern end of the seventh ward.

She came up Liberty street and was going to turn in Laocock, she said, when she saw her uncle, Carmen Domenick, and Nick Domenick walking across the crossing. She said she blew her horn but they didn't pay any attention, and she lost control of the car and didn't know what to do. She said she started to scream and didn't know what happened after that, except that she went up over the curb and crashed into the scale shed of the Mahoning Supply company.

She had gotten her younger sister to go down after her husband, and that he had come and they went to the hospital. While they were there she heard her cousin, Pauline, daughter of Carmen Domenick, scream and knew that her uncle was worse, so she got her husband to drive away. She said he had wanted to report the accident in, but that she insisted that they go away and come back after the excitement had died down, and then report it.

They went to the vicinity of Youngstown, she said, and stayed there for three days, just driving around and sleeping out in the car at night.

Were On Relief.

She said her husband had not been working for two years and that they were on relief. She said they wanted a car, however, and had saved up all they could until they had money enough to buy one. They rolled over several times, he stated. When he looked up, he saw his uncle sitting on the bumper in front of the car with his head back against the fender and radiator.

Mrs. Moran had been driving the car, he stated, and there were several children in the machine.

Some young men came and he helped to put his uncle in their car to go to the hospital. He said Mrs. Moran's husband came to the scene a little later and got into the car and drove it away.

Saw Men Struck.

Patsy Panella of 228 South Liberty street, stated that he had been talking to Domenick and his nephew and several other men, just before they were struck by the car. When they started up Liberty street, he crossed over and was going up the other side. He said he saw the car come along, driven by Mrs. Moran, and thought that she was going to turn in Laocock street to the right.

He said he thought that he had heard a noise, and saw the two men jump up onto the sidewalk. The car was between him and the men and he could not see clearly, he said. He went over and saw Mr. Domenick after he had been struck. He saw no blood as though he had been seriously injured.

John Lombardo, who lives at 224 South Wayne street, said he was in a car parked about sixty feet north of where the two men were struck. He heard the noise and saw people running, and went to the scene. He helped Nick Domenick put Carmen Domenick in his car and drove to a doctor's office in the seventh ward. gave up hope for the rest of the veterans.

To Rescue Passengers.

Meantime, preparations for rescue of the 351 passengers and crew of the Morgan Liner, Dixie, grounded on a beach reef off the east coast for 24 hours, went forward.

Two coast guard vessels and four other steamers were standing by the Dixie, leaking under the terrific pounding of the seas. Shortly before 10 a. m. (E. D. T.) the coast guard cutter Carabasset radioed that it was circling the Dixie preparatory to maneuvering for rescue of the passengers.

Every rescue agency in southern and southeastern Florida as the stricken peninsula groped dazedly toward true realization of its damage.

Along the Keys, which bore the brunt of the hurricane, survey and relief parties were making their way into the blasted regions by motor, boat and on foot.

Relief Work Under Way.

Red Cross workers, national guardsmen, coast guard fliers and volunteer relief workers from Miami and other coastal cities pointed first efforts toward the region of Tavernier, where 100 were killed and 35 injured, and near Matecumbe, where an even greater toll may be uncovered.

They were hampered by blocked and flooded roads, raging streams from which bridges were washed away and an almost paralyzed east coast railroad.

They carried food, medicines, blankets, tents and water. Most of the stricken Keys have no permanent water supply and shortage of water was pronounced.

As the relief forces penetrated slowly into the storm-wracked area reports of heart-rending devastation trickled back. At Tavernier, a small fishing village, the hurricane virtually leveled everything above ground.

On the Matecumbe Keys, destruction was reported widespread. Two FERA camps housing the war veterans were demolished, scarcely two planks being left attached. Frame buildings were ripped to matchwood and tents pulled to ribbons by the blast. A relief train that was to have carried the veterans to safety was wrecked, only the locomotive being left on the tracks.

Complete reports of damage inflicted on the west coast, toward which the storm veered after smashing over the Keys, were being collected slowly. Tampa suffered some property damage but no deaths were reported and St. Petersburg, across the bay, also reported it had escaped fatalities and with comparatively light property loss.

The storm, unless it changes its course again, was expected to blow itself out to sea between Jacksonville and Savannah, Ga. But with 80 mile an hour winds still reported at many points there was the possibility the tail end of the blast might sweep across southern and central Georgia with diminished ferocity.

Sixty-nine Bodies Recovered.

Miami, Fla., Sept. 4.—With 69 bodies already recovered, relief agencies pushed their search today for some 500 war veterans whose had purchased the machine for $25. The car was a 1926 model Chevrolet. John Moran, husband of Mrs. Eva Moran, told a similar story to that related by his wife.

He said that he had never permitted her to drive the car unless he was along, and that it had always been on side streets or out in the country.

He said the lights had been bent, the radiator dented and the bumper bent by the accident.

He was working on a truck at the home of his wife's people when his wife had gotten the car and driven away. He said he shouted to her to come back, but that she evidently had not heard him. A little later, he was attracted by a crowd farthing the street and had gone to the scene and found it was his car and his wife who had been involved in the accident. He said they got in the car and drove to the hospital.

Fled From City.

When they found her uncle was in a serious condition, he said his wife had insisted that they leave here, and that he had gone to the vicinity until they saw in the paper that the uncle had died, so they came back home.

He said he had purchased the car on August 1, and had waited until then to get it, so he could get the license plates at half price. He had owned a car before, prior to the time they had told his parents not to say anything to anyone about the car as he didn't want the relief people to know it.

Mary Domenick, niece of Mrs. Moran, was riding in the front seat with her aunt, she said, when they struck the old man. She said her aunt had blown her horn three times before they struck Mr. Domenick.

Sixty-nine Bodies Recovered.

Miami, Fla., Sept. 4.—With 69 bodies already recovered, relief agencies pushed their search today for some 500 war veterans whose whereabouts have not been reported since a disastrous hurricane swept the Florida Keys early yesterday.

Grave fears were expressed for their safety after the train that was supposed to have transported them from the path of the storm was found wrecked and a coast guard plane flying over the camp on Matecumbe Key reported it was completely demolished.

The veterans had been stationed at rehabilitation camp No. 5, about half way between Miami and Key West.

Lieutenant Clemmer of the U. S. coast guard, who made an aerial survey of the stricken Keys today, reported to the coast guard station at Jacksonville that he was unable to locate the war veterans.

The relief train, which was to have transported them to safety, was found wrecked, with only the heavy locomotive left standing on the track.

Camp Demolished.

The veterans' camp was completely demolished.

Although grave fears were felt by relief agencies for their safety, Lieut. Clemmer refused to give up hope for their safety.

Lieut. Clemmer reported to his superiors that he had estimated the number of dead at 100.

A few persons were seen moving about camp No. 3, Lieut. Clemmer said.

Survivors on Long Key were slowly working their way toward the mainland, but they are completely isolated and will have to be removed by boats.

More than 100 injured already have been brought to mainland hospitals with about 75 being rushed to hospitals here and 50 being cared for at Homestead.

Although numerous persons predicted the death toll will mount to several hundred, Red Cross officials here refused to accept such estimates as accurate and refused to estimate the number of dead until a more thorough check of the area can be made.

Many are stranded on the Keys, and food and medical attention for the injured are urgently needed, according to reports here. But progress through the hurricane battered Keys was slow and extremely difficult.

Veterans' Camp Destroyed.

Washington, Sept. 4.—Veterans' camp No. 3 on Matecumbe Key, Fla., has been completely destroyed by the hurricane, it was reported to coast guard headquarters here today. No estimate of loss of life was given.

The coast guard was advised in a message from Lieut. Olsen of the coast guard air division, who is making a survey of the stricken area.

Olsen advised in a previous message to headquarters that camps Nos. 1 and 5 had been destroyed. These camps were also located on Matecumbe Key.

Giant Waves Batter Wall.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 4.—Giant waves were battering the sea wall and a 55-mile an hour wind was recorded in Sarasota, Fla., at 10 a. m. (CST), according to a short wave radio message picked up today by V. W. Benning, Atlanta short wave radio operator. A heavy rain was falling.

In the meagre dispatches picked up by Benning no loss of life or injuries were reported. All other lines of communication into Sarasota from the outside world are down.

Hold New Castle Man At Columbus

To Face Federal Officers On Counterfeiting Charge—Report Auto Taken

R. W. Stewart, said by local police to reside on East Main street, this city, is under arrest at Columbus, O., according to Colonel Lynn Black, superintendent of the Ohio state highway patrol. The superintendent stated according to reports that Stewart will be given into custody of federal authorities on a charge of violating the Dyer act which concerns counterfeiting and using the mails to defraud.

According to reports at the local police station he is said to have taken an automobile from in front of the Shenango Motor company, West Washington street. Patrolman W. H. Sowers trailed Stewart from Warren to Girard. At the latter place Stewart leaped from the car and attempted to escape on foot. The car was reported to the local police, as found at Girard.

When arrested, according to Sowers, Stewart had some spurious coins. He is said to have reported where he obtained the coins.

Stewart had not been in trouble here up to the time he is alleged to have stolen the car, according to Chief of Police J. F. Haven.

Miss Stewart Starts Duties At Local Y. W.

New Girl Reserve Secretary Assumes New Duties Here On Tuesday

FALL ACTIVITIES AT Y. W. C. A. UNDERWAY

Miss Dorothy Stewart of Butler arrived in New Castle on Tuesday and assumed her new duties as Girl Reserve secretary for the local Young Women's Christian Association. She succeeds Miss Marion Wilson of Coatesville, who resigned early in the summer.

Miss Stewart is not new to the work, having had extensive experience with girls' clubs, not to the local association, having served it as gym instructor a number of years ago. She will have complete charge of the Girl Reserve work, and of the business and industrial girls' clubs sponsored by the association.

She is already busy making plans for the opening of the new season, meeting the Girl Reserve committee chairman and the officers of the various clubs.

During a part of the summer Miss Stewart attended a Girl Reserve conference at Painesville, O., and was enrolled in a course of study at Pitt university.

Activities at the Y. W. C. A. are getting under way this week. Miss Marguerite White, general secretary, has returned to her office after a vacation spent in Parkersburg, W. Va., with friends and at Detroit, Mich., with her sister.

Miss Josephine Sroczyńska, who is in charge of the "Y" employment bureau, returned a week or so ago from Boston, Mass., and has resumed her work.

Miss Rosa Brown, who is in charge of the Elm street Y. W. C. A., has returned here after taking a course of study at the University of Chicago.

About 400 voters have been registered by Registration Clerk, Thomas Edmunds, since the last registration day, according to reports made this morning. Yesterday was the last day on which registrations can be made for this year. Mr. Edmunds kept his office open until midnight, registering the last applicant at ten minutes to 12 o'clock.

In all 300 of the 400 were registered yesterday. Of this number 204 registered Republican and 92 Democratic, the remainder being scattered among the other parties. Of the previous 100 registered, 70 were Republican and 30 Democrats.

With the addition of the above figures the total registration of Republicans in the city is 13,429 and of Democrats, 4,766.

CLASSES FOUND TOO HARD FOR KIDS

(International News Service)
ST. LOUIS, Sept. 4.—"I don't care what teacher says—I can't do this sum!"

This complaint, familiar for years, has at last had some effect.

The superintendent of instruction, Gerling, in St. Louis, has decided that studies for the lower grades are too hard and some of them must go—including subtraction.

"In arithmetic, for example," he said, "we plan gradually to drop the more difficult problems, like subtraction, and devote more attention to the simplest problems, and to group and recreational activities."

GRIDDERS BATTLING HARD FOR POSITIONS

First-Second Teams Picked

Hard Scrimmage Workout Held Tuesday Afternoon As Camp Opens

TOUGH SCHEDULE AWAITS GRIDDERS

Head Coach Phil Bridenbaugh didn't lose much time to the football camp at Muddy Creek Falls opened Tuesday morning. A tough scrimmage session in the afternoon gave the coaches a chance to look the material over.

It was a very determined group of young men who went to work yesterday. There is a lot of work ahead before the season swings open a week from Friday night with Braddock high here.

From the championship team of last year there is only six or seven regulars left. The reserves of last year are battling hard to fill the four or five vacant spots.

Engs Shows Speed.

Judging from the exhibition staged by Robert "Bob" Eng yesterday, the colored speedster is after a varsity berth. He proved quite adept at handling passes and in skirting the ends for long gains. Cabas looked good in the second team backfield and will probably see a lot of action this year. Dal Mumford has the call at the moment for the varsity signal barking post, but Cabas is working hard to dislodge him.

There are a few casualties in camp already. Young Charles Mort, promising young halfback, suffered a leg injury when his motorcycle skidded in the dirt on the Ellwood City road several days ago. Ted Janoski, one of the camp huskies, injured his shoulder on the tackling dummy. Domenick "Gabby" DeCaprio also is nursing an injured leg.

Veteran Tackles.

New Castle will have a pair of seasoned veterans at the tackles in Charles Probst and Frank Crisell. Both boys are big and rangy and fine tacklers. The guards this year will be light and fast. Paul Small and Eddie Ostrosky being the first team choices at the moment, but with Louis George and Mundziak doing a lot of fine work on the reserve team and waiting for a chance at a varsity post. "Blackie" Adamo is a fixture at the center post, even the coaches did not hesitate to say this. Adamo played a lot of center last year and especially in the game at Warren was a tower of strength on the line. "Dynamite" Malley is working hard for a center post.

Despite the rain today the gridgers were out in full regalia this morning and went through a workout, getting used to handling a wet ball.

How Teams Lined Up.

Following is the lineup of the first and second teams used in the scrimmage Tuesday.

Cincinnati Reds Catcher Injured In Auto Crash

Henry "Hank" Erickson, 26, Suffers Fractured Skull In Crash Near Cincinnati

(International News Service)
LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 4.—Henry "Hank" Erickson, 26, Cincinnati Reds catcher, was reported still unconscious today at St. Joseph's hospital, his skull fractured in an automobile accident near here.

Mrs. Erickson and their nephew, Wilson Abbott, were reported to be recovering from minor injuries.

Besides the skull fracture, Erickson was reported suffering from severe cuts and a possible knee fracture.

The Erickson car and a truck collided about 25 miles from here on the Cincinnati road after midnight.

Hafey Is Placed On Retired List

CHICAGO, Sept. 4.—The controversy between Chick Hafey and the Cincinnati Reds today had been settled—temporarily at least.

Judge Kenesaw M. Landis, commissioner of baseball, announced he had placed Hafey on the voluntarily retired list.

Hafey walked out on the Reds last May without permission, because of illness.

In announcing his action Judge Landis said:

"Cincinnati's chief interest was in getting a ruling so that Hafey would not be counted among the 23 players, the Cub limit."

Utah Arithmetic Is Bad, Campbell Set 300 Record

Campbell's Ambition Realized After Error In Figures Is Fixed Up

Official Time For Britons Daring Dash Was 301.337

SALT LAKE CITY, Sept. 4.—His long-cherished ambition of rocketing down a speedway at 300 miles per hour or better achieved, Sir Malcolm Campbell was ready today to hang up his goggles and quit the racing game.

This became a rather well established fact when the daring automobile speed king admitted he would not return to the Salt Flats of old Lake Bonneville and that he would probably not step into the cockpit on the Bluebird again—at least not until someone has bettered his record.

His staff hoped that their chief, now on the shady side of 50, would not attempt to boost the world's land speed mark higher.

Wary from the strain of shattering his own record of 276.816 miles per hour on Bonneville's glistening saline course yesterday, and establishing a new one of 301.337 (correct) miles an hour, Campbell relaxed at his hotel suite here today.

Bad Arithmetic

He was satisfied, but chagrined at the anti-climax enacted when several hours after the historic run yesterday, timers discovered their arithmetic was wrong and his time was over 300 miles per hour. Instead of five-thousandths of a second under as originally announced, "It was such a childish error to make," he said. "I am pleased, of course, but the delay spoiled the spontaneous satisfaction that would have been mine if I had known directly after the race. It would have prevented the keen disappointment that I couldn't help feeling."

Campbell was going ahead at a feverish pace preparing for a second record-smashing trial early today when the news was broken to him that he had exceeded the 300 miles per hour speed. He immediately ordered the Bluebird crated and departed for Salt Lake City to book passage for England on the majestic September 12.

Carnegie Tech Starts Training

Forty Candidates Inaugurate Early Training—Open Season Sept. 28

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Sept. 4.—Forty-one candidates are in the squad at Carnegie Tech's football training quarters in Skibo bowl, on the campus.

It marks the start of the third season for young Howard Harpster as head coach, and he will be surrounded by a well-equipped staff of assistants. Joe Bach, star Notre Dame tackle of the days of the "Four Horsemen", and later line coach at Syracuse and Duquesne, and head coach at Duquesne last year, takes over the development of the varsity line. A. C. Irwin, for a number of years assistant graduate manager and head scout, goes into active coaching service. Tom Davies, Pitt's all-American halfback of a decade ago, and recently head coach at Rochester university, joins the Carnegie forces as freshman coach and the staff is rounded out by the addition of Joe Mihm and Cliff Delo-way, standout performers of the 1934 varsity team.

Of the 41 players on the varsity squad, almost half, or 18, will be sophomores, up for their first chance. Thirteen will be juniors and 10 seniors.

Only seven letter men will be available. Co-captains Terebus and Trbovich, halfback and center respectively; Henrich, Chyozewski and Kelly, guards, and Lehman and Patt, backs.

Carnegie opens with Case at Cleveland on September 28, and then swings into seven consecutive major games: Notre Dame, New York university, Temple, Purdue, Duquesne, Holy Cross and Pittsburgh.

Two Roast Beefs Quickly Disappear

High School Football Boys Certainly Have Enormous Appetites

Did you ever try to cook for 35 healthy hard working young men? Mrs. Helen Hood, the chief cook at the New Castle high school football camp at Muddy Creek Falls, just laughs and says, "It's really some job, but I like to see the boys eat."

The camp opened yesterday and for supper last night two big juicy looking roast beefs, that looked like the whole side of a cow were in the roasting pans. The writer had a peek at the roasts and so this is first nose information. It smelled delicious. It must have tasted swell after a two or three hour hard workout.

Faculty Manager Gardner took the writer on a tour of inspection of the larger, or pantry to you, and showed the stock of canned food, soup to beans, etc. The big cans of coffee. The many pounds of butter, dozens of eggs and well just about everything that you would find in a small sized grocery store.

To supplement the roast beef, last night, the boys had stewed corn and other fine dishes. A delicious dessert topped off the meal.

Helping Mrs. Hood with the preparation of the food is Fred Bartell and Luke Rowe, and these two men do plenty of work, and are invaluable to the camp. The student managers Eddie Wilson and Jim Foster also help with the kitchen work and are assisted by William Broadbent and W. Gregor. There are few dull moments around a football camp. Everybody works and never had from Head Coach Bridenbaugh and Ralph Gardner right down the list.

Thursday night it will be chicken instead of roast beef, but this won't make any of the young men angry.

Raskowski-Fleming In Panther's Camp

Two of the former New Castle High football stars, Walter Raskowski and Charles Fleming are in the camp of the Pitt Panthers at Windber, Pa., it was revealed by Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner of Senior High. Both will no doubt obtain posts with the Pitt Freshman team this fall.

Another New Castle boy at the Panther camp is William "Bill" Barbarowitz who is being groomed for a managerial post with the Panthers.

In Walter Raskowski it is believed that Pitt has a future All-American guard. He is one of the finest athletes to ever graduate at New Castle High and certainly Bridenbaugh never had a better guard nor a harder worker for the good of the team. Fleming is also headed for stardom is the belief here.

OFF FOR CAMP

Paul Cuba, of East Washington street, former New Castle high and Pitt University griddier, has left for Philadelphia where he will join the Philadelphia Eagles, professional football team, which now in training for the coming season.

Pitt Basketball Team Will Utilize High Grid Camp

Doc Carlson Will Bring His Panther Basketeers To Muddy Creek

Doc Carlson and his University of Pittsburgh basketball team will utilize the New Castle high school football camp on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 13, 14 and 15, it was announced by Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner today.

It is very rare indeed for a basketball team to take to camp life, but then, the Pitt team is a very unusual and championship basketball team, and that accounts for the fact that they will themselves into the woods around Rose Point for three or four days.

Arrangements for the camp were made through Luke Rowe, former New Castle high star and now a member of the Pitt varsity basketball team. All of the regulars will be at camp. Doc Carlson will go over plays and will hold drills on the football field, where two basketball hoops have been erected.

The Pitt basketeers have heretofore gone to Camp Windber along with the football boys, but decided to try the New Castle high camp this year.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Nick Cangle, manager of the Mahoning A. A. Lawrence County Baseball league has written a letter to the commissioners of the league in which he states that in his opinion the president of the league, A. C. Irwin, should arrange dates for the playing off of two postponed games with the American Sheet & Tin Plate. Should Samuels not do this Cangle wants the commission to order the games played. President Samuels is expected home from Atlantic City soon. Relative to Cangle's desire to play off the two games, Manager Black of the Tin Platers writes that Cangle had plenty of time to play off the games, refused to play on dates suggested and were the games played off the result would have no bearing on the championship. Black shows that his team won 11 games an lost one and Mahoning won five games and lost two. The season originally was scheduled to end August 12. Due to postponements a meeting of the league was called and the managers agreed to arrange for playing off of postponed games. When this was not done President Alec Samuels ordered that the season would be closed August 25. When Samuels left for Atlantic City the complaint of Mahoning was presented to vice president William G. Andrews. The Tin Platers won the first half and also the second half, according to the status of teams on August 25.

Silvio Coucci, one of the tour's best riders, was suspended for the duration of the Aqueduct meeting which ends September 14, for rough riding aboard Browbeaten in the sixth race yesterday. The case was referred to the stewards of the jockey club for further action.

H. R. Brown of Louisville, a youth, registered 297 hits of 300 in the preliminaries to the National rifle matches at Camp Perry, O. Brown is only 15 and the performance is quite remarkable. G. N. Sawyer of New York registered 295 hits; W. B. Randall of Shreveport, La., was third with 281. They shot a distance of 50 feet. In the women's group, Mrs. Anna Fritz of Newport, R. I., scored 298 on the same course. Mrs. Vincent, also of Newport was second with 292 and Mrs. Helen Woolley of Canon City was third with 289.

Leo Mackey, manager of the Butler Indians, Penn State Baseball association, has agreed to manage the Johnstown club of the Mid-Atlantic league next year. Jack Quinn, who has been managing the Johnstown club, resigned suddenly last night. Johnstown and Dayton are tied for the leadership of the league and the season is scheduled to end Saturday.

Al Quail of Pittsburgh took the decision from Jimmy Smith of Philadelphia in a 10 round bout in the North Side arena, Pittsburgh, but he knew he was in a fight all the way. The scrap was interesting throughout. Smith confined most of his efforts to inflicting and Quail to long range punting. Quail scored a knockdown in the third round.

FLEETWING DEWBERRY sent one of his kids out to the garage to get some wood for the fire place and the kid spied one old piece of junk in the corner. It had a big wheel and didn't look as if it amounted to much so he proceeded to knock it apart to get the wheel to play with. He cut up the rest of the wood into pieces and took it into the house and when his maw saw it she knew that her cherished spinning wheel was only a memory. "Ye Gods!" she cried, "I've waited 2 years for a spinning wheel, and I just got to keep it one night." There's an old spinning wheel in the parlor.

Stock Market Is Sluggish

Market Displays Sluggish And Reactionary Tone Today, Trading is Small

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—The stock market displayed a sluggish and reactionary tone today in the smallest trading in around two months.

The break in bank over-the-counter, where first national slumped 80 points, following yesterday's dividend reductions, was responsible for some of the selling. On the big board corn exchange dropped 4 points before support appeared, and marine Midland was heavy.

Losses in leading stocks ran to a point but pressure was not heavy and slight rallying tendencies appeared at times. Chrysler lost nearly a point but came back around midday.

Among the strong spots were American telephone, which worked higher; Continental Can, up more than a point, and the building shares where U. S. Gypsum rose over a point.

Atlas Powder dropped 3 points on the bid side in a series of bid and asked quotations. Safeway stores lost a point in the merchandise group. Union Pacific was off a point.

Declines Occur
News of the cancellation of the Ethiopian oil deal by Standard-Vacuum, affiliate of Standard Oil of New Jersey and Socony-Vacuum, led to some selling in the shares of the parent companies, but declines were fractional. Other oils were backward with the exception of Standard of California, which was firm.

Car loading estimates for last week were for the highest total in nearly 4 years but rails were easier. U. S. Steel slipped under the 43-level while Bethlehem gave ground fractionally. General Motors was down fractionally. Farm equipments were supported by the strength in wheat.

Utilities suffered small losses. Liquors were steady and chemicals lower.

Commodities were stronger, cotton rising 50 cents a bale and wheat a cent a bushel were dull and mixed while the dollar gained further against foreign currencies.

Il Duce's Sons Off for Africa

The eldest sons of Premier Mussolini, Vittorio (left), and Bruno (extreme right), board a transport at Naples to sail for East Africa to fly with Italy's air corps in the expected war on Ethiopia. (Central Press)

Vital Target for Italy

This bridge carrying the single-tracked railway which is Ethiopia's only transportation system, over the Hawash River 165 miles from Addis Ababa, is expected to be among first targets of Italian bombers, as destruction of it would effectively end use of line for transportation of troops and supplies. GERMAN FAR EAST

TRADE INCREASING

(International News Service)
HAMBURG, Sept. 4.—Germany's trade with Far Eastern countries has increased considerably lately, unaffected by boycott influences elsewhere.

Recent statistics published by the "East-Asiatic Verein Hamburg-Bremen" show Germany's foreign trade in those countries increased steadily from 1932 on.

Japan and China ranked first among the Far Eastern purchasers, followed by the Dutch Indies, Australia, the Malaysians and other countries.

The East-Asiatic Verein declares that there is every indication of a constant further increase of the German trade in the Far East.

HIS 35 DOGS ARE

JUDGED TOO MANY

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—Dan's best friend is his dog, but William J. Schall had 35 canine friends and neighbors complained.

A field agent for the state bureau of animal husbandry visited Schall's home and reported finding dogs on tables and chairs to keep out of each other's way.

Schall was haled before an alderman on charges of harboring unlicensed dogs when the gent said he found 25 of the 35 animals without tags.

Report Is Filed On Post-Rogers Crash

Eugene Vidal Director of Air Commerce Says Ice, Heavy Nose, Caused Disaster

Wiley Post Knew That Ship Was Nose Heavy, Fell From About 200 Feet

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.—Ice and a nose-heavy airplane were advanced today as probable causes of the fatal plunge of Wiley Post and Eugene Vidal, director of air commerce, made his first report to Secretary of Commerce Daniel C. Roper.

Post's plane was refused a first class rating because of changes he had made on his "Orion 9 E," and a restricted rating was given.

He had substituted wings from another ship, had installed a heavier motor and larger gas tanks, and changed the wheel landing gear to pontoons, Vidal said.

Was Nose Heavy

Post "found the airplane nose heavy," Vidal told his chief, "on take-offs and landings following the installation of floats, and that on take-offs, he had instructed Rogers to sit as far to the rear as possible, and also keep the equipment and luggage well aft."

On the subject of motor trouble, Vidal reported:

"There can be only speculation as to the cause of motor failure, the motor being buried in the mud underneath some two feet of water. We are inclined to believe that with the moisture in the air as it existed that day, and the temperature as it was reported (40 to 45 degrees with no ice on land or water) ice could have developed in the carburetor. Either that, or the spray from water in taking off could have entered the scoops and in that way caused icing."

About 200 Feet

"While the Eskimo had reported that the plane had risen about 50 feet, it seems quite apparent that Post had climbed to almost 200 feet. The near perpendicular nosing-in on its back would indicate that an altitude higher than 50 feet had been gained prior to its stalling."

Although the department issued a restricted license to Post's Hybrid plane, trials under bureau of air commerce inspection were satisfactory "with every detail from a construction standpoint," Vidal declared.

Luncheon was served in the dining room at 5:30 p. m. On the committee were Mrs. Pearl Cochran, Mrs. Ernest McCreary, Mrs. Ed. Mayberry and Mrs. Pearl Foster.

GOOD GOVERNMENT

means thrifty government, it means economical government, it means unselfish service by the elected officers. Lawrence county needs such government in the county commissioners office. There has been too much waste, too much extravagance, too much of preferred buying of supplies.

Why not try Joseph S. Martin as one of the Republican candidates. As a farmer he knows what thrift means, as a business man he knows what business principles mean, as a citizen he deserves the support of the Republican voters.
